5. BEWARING

Indringer kewer bedreig Kaapse bome:

Lede word versoek om op die uitkyk te wees vir n indringer boomkewer wat groot skade aan bome kan aanrig. Alhoewel daar nog nie gerapporteerde gevalle in die Kaapse Metropol is nie, is die kans groot dat die indringer (polyphagous shot hole borer (PSHB)) binnekort sy verskyning kan maak.

PSHB is verantwoordelik vir die vernietiging van duisende bome in ander dele van die land en navorsers het die Stad Kaapstad ingelig om gereed te wees sou die kewer in bome opgemerk word. Aangeheg is n brosjure met inligting oor die identifisering van die kewer en waar om dit te rapporteer.

Road kill survey:

Our branch would like to compile a database that we can share with wildlife and conservation authorities.

Various species are killed on city roads especially on the urban edge and suburban areas that border nature reserves. Studies show that up to 20 caracal in a specific year were killed on Cape Town roads. Another report cited a steenbok that was killed by a vehicle in Brackenfell Boulevard last year.

We would like to request members to report any sightings of wild animal road kills within the Cape Metropole.

This will assist Nature Conservation authorities to study behavioural patterns and to use carcasses for important research.

Information on the date, time, location and, if possible, a photo can be emailed to krugerjd@telkomsa.net.
